

Breaking Ground on Innovation: Bristol Port to Unveil New Apprentice Training Bay

Published: Tuesday 6th February 2024

It is National Apprenticeship Week, and The Bristol Port Company is proud to announce that we will soon be launching our new bespoke apprentice training bay.

The ambitious project has transformed a disused two-room complex into a facility dedicated to mechanical apprentices and refresher courses.

The strategic placement of the training bay, separate from the fabrication space, ensures a focused and quieter atmosphere for apprentices to sharpen their skills. The initiative underscores Bristol Port's commitment to fostering talent and investing in the future of skilled workers.

What sets this venture apart is the hands-on involvement of apprentices, who, under the supervision of experienced port workers, are leading the charge in completing the project. This approach not only provides a dynamic learning experience but also instills a sense of ownership and responsibility.

Bristol Port Company is proud that it continues to push apprenticeship excellence by offering real-world projects, skill development opportunities, and a safe learning environment to progress in!
